

World Water Day is March 22

A close-up photograph of two hands cupped together, pouring clear water. The hands are positioned in the center-right of the frame, with water cascading from the palms. The background is a blurred body of water, likely a lake or ocean, under bright, natural light. The overall tone is clean and refreshing.

we're celebrating with the unveiling of a new way to give that will ensure clean water for Central Texans forever.

Next week, we're unveiling a new giving program and you're invited to join us.

Without your ongoing support and generosity we simply couldn't continue to conserve the precious Texas Hill Country for future generations to enjoy. You're part of a small group of valued donors to join us in the early launch of this new program.

We can't wait for you to join us.

Stay tuned! An update will arrive in your mailbox soon.
